

THE DAILY HERALD

Salt Lake City, Utah.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1885.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

THE GRAND JURY has adjourned until tomorrow.

ALVIN JOSLIN'S $10,000 band will parade the streets at noon today.

WELLS, FARGO & Co. received yesterday one lot Nervine ore, $1,400.

UNION NATIONAL BANK received yesterday nine bars Alice brand, $4,800.

THE KNIGHTS of St. Ann's give another hop in the Olympic Hall this evening.

MCCORMICK & Co. received yesterday one ear Hamner bullion, $3,300; Queen Hills ore, $1,800; total, $5,100.

THE RECEPTION to the Hot Springs occurs today, the train leaving at 11 a. m. The pigeon match is free to all.

THE HERALD extra of yesterday announcing the death of Vice-President Hendricks, was in great demand.

PEOPLE WISHING to accompany the Mikado excursion to Logan, can obtain tickets at the Utah Central depot this morning.

THANKSGIVING DAY will be observed at THE HERALD office as elsewhere today and no paper will be issued tomorrow morning.

THE NEW hall of the I. O. O. F. at Ogden was dedicated last evening. Quite a number of the Salt Lake brothers were present.

Mrs. EMMA WYKING of Taylorville, and Mr. E. K. Nebeker, late of Hawaii, but now a resident of this city, were married in the Logan Temple yesterday.

THE POST OFFICE will be closed Thanksgiving, General Delivery and Carriers' window will be open from 12.30 to 1.30 p. m. JOHN T. LYNN, P. M.

A WELL-KNOWN individual in this city yesterday posted a letter to a friend now in the east, advising him to stay away until the present cruel war is over.

THE ARTICLES of incorporation of the Utah Gold Mining Company of Utah were filed with Secretary Thomas yesterday, and a certificate issued.

THE SHOE shop of Edward Snider on Second South Street was burglarized on Tuesday evening. Several pairs of boots and a pair of shoes are missing as the result of the raid.

IN THE FOOT race yesterday morning between Harry Williams, said to be from Pittsburgh, and Kolla Tibbets, $50 a side, run at Liberty Park, Williams won by a distance of about two feet.

HOW MANY who have hitherto been foremost in denouncing Mormon morals, will go to their pillows this night, wondering what the world will think of their own, should Judge Zane rule for the city?

THE SALT LAKE Brewing Company presented each of its employees yesterday with a fine turkey. The general Morris also sent around a liberal supply of the celebrated export beer to the several hospitals.

MR. WILLIAM WILKINS has been appointed local agent for Pomeroy's Democrat, and is now entering upon a canvass for the paper. The Democrat is a live paper, and treats Utah matters intelligently and fairly.

THERE ONLY remains one more case in which a jury will be called this term, and the overworked and underpaid men composing the body will then be free. The case is that of L. A. Cummings et al. vs. the S. Y. estate.

A COMPLAINT was sworn out in the Police Court yesterday, charging a resident of South Cottonwood with parloting turkeys from a neighbor. Until further examination shall have been had, names are suppressed.

WITNESSES in the case of George H. Taylor were before the Grand Jury yesterday. They were subpoenaed to be in court on December 15th, so that the coming term of the court is probably intended to be as busy a one as its predecessors.

A HERALD reporter yesterday heard what purported to be a part of the evidence to come out in the L. L. case. Of all the horrors ever conjured up by the imagination of man, the evidence in these cases excels them.

ODDY and Dolan, who meet at the Paydirt in twenty-seven hours ago, are said to be in active training and both feel confident Oddy is well-known here, and Dolan, is, is claimed, made very good time a few years ago. He is now engaged in mining.

SCENE IN THE CITY HALL.—Single Female Men.—This prosecution now being heard on the L. L. question is all right in so far as it affects married men, but the idea of prosecuting single men is foolish. You should let single men alone.—By Hampton, is my name on the list? TABERNACLE.

THE FRIENDS of Joseph Davis, of Lehi Junction who did not understand the broad spirit of satisfaction on his face would say the event happened at 12 o'clock Tuesday night in the form of a bounding boy, mother and child doing well. As for the father, we think he will be able to pull through.

THE CASE of George Reed, arrested on Tuesday evening, charged with stealing several articles from a second-hand store, came up before Judge Spiers yesterday. The defendant plead not guilty, and claimed to have bought the property from some one whose name he did not know. He will have a hearing on Friday.

QUITE a number of the merchants and butchers of the city remembered the poor yesterday by generous gifts of various kinds. A well-known butcher firm sent out an offering to a lady to whom they thought it would be acceptable, and were somewhat surprised to have it returned with thanks, and the information that she had been fortunate in obtaining work, and was now beyond need, she would esteem it a favor if they would send it to someone who might not have been so fortunate.

"The" Place of Beverages.—The Occidental bar, where the choicest of wines, liquors and beers are manipulated in the most tempting fashion by the experienced proprietors. The lady trade and private parties supplied. Rest of California and imported wines and fruit are always in stock. ADRI & MURPHY.

GIVE THANKS.

A Supplemental Proclamation by Eli, the Handsome.

WHAT TO BE THANKFUL FOR.

Head, Mark, Learn and Inwardly Digest the Document on this Memorable Day.

As Thursday, the 26th day of November, has been designated as a day of thanksgiving and praise, and as certain circumstances have recently come to light, which, it is feared, will make our turkey less palatable than was anticipated, therefore, I, Eli the Handsome, hereby call on all of you, brothers sons of Bellal, to offer special prayers on said day, to be held, our father, whose servants we are, that he may avert the calamities that threaten us.

We had much to be thankful for until Van, our incomparable deputy, was arrested, and Sam, also, who prosecutes with rigor those who go outside of the law, and also, Yearian, the champion foreman of the anti-Mormon Grand Jury; and where the thing will end has not yet been made known to me; but, my brothers, I know we all have our little faults, and these are to be magnified before the world as though they were sins.

Therefore when ye pray to our Father the Great Prince you will first of all petition in my behalf, that my case may be continued for the term—an indefinite term.

You will next remember Judge Zane, whom I must assure you, is in a very tight place. The old man has been glib with his tongue—has even said that the Edmunds law was not intended to suppress sex'nal sins, but that that was left to local authorities; and now you see where such talk has got him and us all.

He has lectured those condemned Mormons about bringing up their sons in principles of morality, and also you all know a milk-eyed dude (an officer of the court) whose chastity is not above suspicion—will not do to ramble on.

Pray for that doughty Commissioner—he of the pudding head, I mean, that for a time, at least, he may relax his fee-dish grip, till we see if this thing won't blow over. Pray for a legislative commission, for don't you see, if we had that, we could call on those city authorities so quick it would make their heads swim.

Pray for that American Gentleman from Cork—the Bowl Tub—that he may be able to make not only the Boston Herald believe, but that he may herald it everywhere and have it believed that we are as spotless as the driven snow; that we are true to our wives (and our families), and that this crusade is only Mormon spleen.

True, the said Bowl Tub has a big job on his hands in this matter, but as he is a lineal descendant of the father of lies, I think, by the help of our prayers, he will prove equal to the occasion.

Pray that the press of the country may not begin to ask us to vindicate ourselves, and not hide behind Abies corpus or lame city ordinances. Of course, we would vindicate, but you see what nonsense it is to have the press of the country howling about it, and asking us to vindicate or resign. Why, my brothers, we can't resign! So pray very earnestly that that howl may be squelched.

Pray for the holy Powers, for I am told they have a dead sure thing on his acre highness, only they are keeping it back, and they had to shadow him east to get it.

Use your faith and prayers in behalf of our organ and advocate with our Father—have it stop for a time its old cry about "coming within the laws" and "has any innocent man been arrested?" All that must be stopped for a time.

Extol the wisdom of the son of Dick, who, when his wife was absent, went not to the "div" himself, but sent for a lady friend. Alas! had we all used wisdom, we would not now have been caught.

Finally you will swallow your turkey—white meat, or red—and chew sound as best you can, and when it sticks "in the throat" was it down and look fearlessly innocent of your trusting wife, but with "bated breath and whispering humbleness" keep a peered eye on the front gate, for in an hour that ye not wor of the policeman's cometh.

Pray that this goodly land which has been made fair to look on may be cleared from those drugging Mormons, who by taking care of their wives and educating their children, have made such a stink under my pure nostrils, that they must be wiped out; and may it be granted us that we, Eli, may be made the President of a legislative commission to cleanse this fair land of foul Mormonism, sanctify it, so that henceforth we may live in that purity and chastity that we all so much love, without let or hindrance. Hear us, we beseech thee, O Beelzebub!

Done at my office, this 24th day of November, A. D. 1885, and the year of my dependence on the charity of others the 40th.

ELI THE HANDSOME.

Guilty.

Brown and Beardley, the two men on trial for burglarizing Williams & Gerrans' saloon, were yesterday found guilty by the jury after a long consultation, which promised to result in a disagreement. The jury remained out so long that Judge Zane was forced to obtain an open venire to proceed with, as noted elsewhere. The two burglars will be recipients of Judge Zane's clemency on Saturday.

DR. RUSSELL'S FORTUNE.

A Strange Wind-up to a Physician's "Great Expectations."

It will be remembered that some time ago THE HERALD published an account of the "great expectations" of an old gentleman of this city, named Dr. Russell, together with certain letters, legal and official documents, etc., from lawyers and court referees in New York, in reference to his claim. A printer named Russell had died suddenly, intestate, and Dr. Russell applied as one of his heirs, for a portion of an estate of $400,000, said to have been left behind. This sum subsequently dwindled to $40,000, but for a good many months past the doctor has been importuning friends to advance him sufficient money to hire lawyers with a view to New York. Mr. F. S. Richards, now in the east was authorized to look up the matter, and a rather strange aspect has been given to the affair by the receipt of the following letter addressed by him to Mr. Moyle:

"Decree of the final distribution in the Russell estate was made July 24th, 1885, and the entire residue of the estate, $34,645, was distributed in equal shares of $3,951, namely, to Martha Russell, Sarah Russell, Thomas Russell and James Russell, who were adjudged by the court to be the brothers and sisters of the deceased. They were all of England, three residing at Nottingham and one at Sheffield. I did not even find the doctor's name among the claimants, who numbered more than fifty. Mr. Norris entered his appearance for Charles William Russell of New York City, and there was a William Russell, of Northam, N. Y., doing no claimants, but no one from Idaho and no other person but Charles William Russell was represented by Mr. Norris."

The strange feature of all this is that Dr. Russell has in his possession a wilderness of evidence taken in the case, with numerous letters signed by Norris & Beach, attorneys, all speaking in the most hopeful terms of his spent half a day examining the doctor's papers, and knows personally that he had every assurance from New York that he would be one of the favored heirs. That the whole thing has been settled up, leaving him out in the cold, would indicate that he had been made the victim of some huge swindling concern in New York, or that he dropped out of sight through having no money with which to sustain his claim. It has been asserted in THE HERALD that Dr. Russell was trading extensively on the strength of his expectations, even after he knew the estate had been finally wound up, and that he has numerous creditors who have been blind to the strength of his representations. We shall wait to hear from the doctor before mentioning this matter further.

A Creditable Performance.

To the Editor of THE HERALD.

The people of American Fork have been so often bilked by individuals who have come here and by their numerous bills asserted that they would give a performance of some kind or other far surpassing anything ever witnessed, that any company who are strangers, coming now, are looked upon with considerable distrust. However, last evening we had a deviation from the general rule. The Sparks Comedy Concert Company performed in the Opera Hall to a large and appreciative audience, and to their credit be said, they gave an entertainment that gave entire satisfaction. The dancing by a 6 year old boy is indeed a wonder, and the many instruments played upon must be seen and heard to be appreciated. We say, call again, boys. E. H. AMERICAN FORK, November 25, 1885.

A SHEEP CASE.

To the Editor of THE HERALD.

The case of Halstrom vs. Larkin is now on trial in the District Court, and is distinguished on account of the fact that there are only eleven men on the jury. When the jury in the burglary case retired, there were only four men who passed master, and an open venire was issued for the remaining eight.

Both sides agreed that the case should go on without attempting to fill the vacancy. The dispute concerns the possession of 120 head of sheep, value about $400, with interest. John A. Marshall appears for the plaintiff, and D. C. McLaughlin and LeGrande Young for the defendant.

Theatre To-night.

Charles L. Davis, the man who has invested the greater part of a fortune made from his play of Alvin Joslin, in diamonds and musical instruments, opens at the Theatre to-night. The holiday and his street parade will no doubt jam the house, as they did on the occasion of his last visit.

PEDESTRIAN CONTEST.

At the Salt Lake Pavilion, on Monday next, the 30th of November, John Oddy, ex-champion heel and toe walker of America, will try his speed and endurance in a twenty-seven hour contest, against J. O. Dolan, the latter to go as he pleases against John Oddy's walk for a wager of $500.

The Opera House Band will be in attendance. Skating will be permitted during the whole of the contest.

The match will commence punctually at 8 p. m., to conclude on Tuesday night. The scores will be kept by the members of the Salt Lake City Baseball Club. Admission 50c each.

Killed in a Mine.

A man named R. Berryman, who had just arrived from the old country, was killed in the Calumet mine, at Stockton, on the 24th, by falling down the shaft, a distance of 200 feet. His body was brought to the city and interred by Supt. L. Karrick, after Sheriff McBride, of Tooele County, had held the inquest.

WHO BOOKED CARLETON?

The Salt Lake Theatre Management State Their Position.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 25, 1885.

To the Editor of THE HERALD: A recent issue of your interesting Dramatic and Lyric informed the public that Mr. Carleton was to appear in the Salt Lake Theatre December 7th and 8th. You now inform us that he appears at the Opera House; how is this? An explanation will no doubt be acceptable to your many readers, as it certainly will be to Yours truly,

AN OLD STAGER.

"An Old Stager" has grown exasperated by reading the mess of dramatic muddings published in the Tribune; his letter was referred to the management of the Theatre, with the request that they give their version of the matter. We trust that it will settle the dispute and silence the idiotic Tribune hack who insists that Carleton never was booked at the Salt Lake Theatre.

To the Editor of THE HERALD: The truth of the matter is simply this: Mr. Carleton applied for December 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th, at the Salt Lake Theatre, by letter dated September 17th, 1885. He was informed by telegram that he could have December 7th and 8th, but that December 9th and 10th were already held for Leavitt's European specialties. Subsequently Mr. Carleton telegraphed to hold for his opera company December 7th and 8th, now nearly six weeks ago. On the 31st of October, Chizzola telegraphed for December 7th, for Emma Nevada. We declined the offer on Mr. Carleton's account.

We also declined Harry C. Smart's offer of the Thompson Mikado Company for November 30th and December 1st, out of a sense of justice to Mr. Carleton, who was already booked to play the Mikado so soon after. It was not until the 15th of the present month that we were informed by Mr. Carleton not to hold time for him any longer. Fortunately for us and the public, however, we were still able to secure Nevada for December 7th, and the Thompson Company for November 30th and December 1st.

This statement of the facts in the case is submitted for the information of "Old Stager" and the public, without comment, leaving them to decide whether or not THE HERALD was in error.

THE MIKADO OUT.

A Pleasant Time in Store for the Participants.

It will be a merry party that leaves for Logan this morning over the Utah Central, composed of nearly the entire Mikado Company, and a large number of their friends. The four of the Patience people of last spring will long be remembered as the most enjoyable ever participated in by the members of that company, and it is proposed to make this trip equally as enjoyable. The members of the company leaving this morning are: Prof. Carlless, Mrs. McEwan, Miss Louise Wells, Miss Ivy Clawson, Miss F. Whitney, Miss Lyle Allen, Miss Louise Dowden, Miss Louise Simmons, Miss Maggie Crismon, Miss Millie Park, Miss Nellie Hardy, Miss Lute Whitney, Miss Euphemia Lattimer, Miss Louise Mayer, Miss Nettie Raleigh, Miss Lou Whitney, Miss Nettie Raleigh, Miss Emma Crismon, Miss Lottie Martin, Miss Hattie Chambers, Miss Lizzie Lattimer, Miss Josephine Spencer, Miss Louise Whitney, Miss Tacey Young, Miss Annie Simpson, Miss Lute Young, J. Among the visitors accompanying the troupe are: Mrs. J. A. Jennings, Florence Dinwoody, F. C. Shelley, Joseph C. Richards, J. Stewart, J. B. Toranzo, C. J. Gustavson, W. T. Schluter, H. Silverthorn, John Bechtel, Mrs. S. E. Angell, Mrs. Clive, Mrs. W. Clawson, R. Anderson, Mrs. G. D. Pyper.

The Thompson Mikado Company.

DENVER, Colorado, November 17.

To whom it may concern:

I can heartily endorse the Thompson Opera Company as one of the best traveling light opera companies I have ever seen. I saw their performance here and will say that the individual merits of the leading members can hardly be surpassed. The chorus is excellent and the performance compares favorably with the companies now playing the Mikado in New York. It is nearly impossible for a traveling organization to give a more complete and satisfactory performance.

J. H. HAVERLY.

Mr. M. B. Leavitt, who was here during the past week, also endorsed the Thompson Company's performance of the Mikado and is desirous of securing them for his San Francisco Theatre.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

IN THE CASE of F. Auerbach et al. vs. Robert Mulhall, continuance was yesterday set aside and the case reinstated.

EXCLAMATION of one of the society bloods who believes he is on the list: "Lo, on a narrow neck of land, Twixt two unbanded seas, I stand."

LEANDER WRIGHT was yesterday arraigned in court on the charge of having stolen a horse, value $99, from a Mr. Cardell; he pleaded not guilty.

THE PAVO Manufacturing Company has received an order from St. Louis, Mo., for 375 pairs of blankets and fifty dozen shawls. The goods have been shipped.

THE SUIT of the London Bank of Utah vs. the Flagstaff S. M. Co. was yesterday dismissed. Professor Vincent is said to have settled the amount somewhere in the neighborhood of $2,000.

A SENSATION was produced in and about the Court Room on Saturday morning, by the subpoenaing of the attorneys, experts and witnesses in the Beck Eureka mining suit, and the court officers and reporters, to appear before the Grand Jury to-day, the Grand Jury in the meantime being notified that their presence was required. The object of this movement is said to have some connection with the lost notes. On the opening of court this morning, it was found that several of the Grand Jurors had not arrived and therefore those who were assembled were excused till 2 o'clock.—Enquirer.
